If you think this note is something strange or random, it is not meant for you. On the other hand, if you expected to stumble across something like this, you are the target audience.

If you're reading this, you claim allegiance with Chubs, the greatest piggy scientist ever known. To enter Elenia, the hidden realm whose portal lies concealed within Lars Anderson Park, you must first pass NASA's rigorous identity verification: The Trial of the Trees. Among the ancient trees scattered across the park, we have stored secrets within patterns that only the most specialized humans can understand. Solve these numeric enigmas to prove you are indeed Chubs's chosen emissary. Fail, and the trees themselves shall forever deny your entry.

To unlock the first tree, enter the sum of all digits of your birthday  $MM/DD/YYYY$ . Your verification begins there.
